

Environmental Education Intern

J.N. "Ding" Darling NWR, Sanibel, FL

INTERN NEEDED: Dec 1, 2006- May 31, 2007 (somewhat flexible). Environmental Education Intern needed at the J.N. "Ding" Darling National Wildlife Refuge located on beautiful Sanibel Island, FL. Sanibel is a barrier island located near Ft. Myers, FL on the Southwest coast of Florida. Refuge is located in close proximity to K-8 grade school.

Duties include: Designing and conducting environmental education lesson plans, coordinate and execute monthly special events, creating and performing weekly interpretive programs for the public, design teacher curriculum packets along with teacher workshops.

Skills and/or experience preferred: Environmental Education experience, developing lesson plans, conducting field trips through a natural area, bird identification skills and ability to work in hot humid conditions with biting insects. Need to have an Environmental Education degree or related Natural Resource management degree or in the process of receiving a degree in a related field.

Free Housing, $100 a week stipend, and intern uniform will be provided. Please send a resume with relevant course work and field experience by October 30, 2006 to the J.N. "Ding" Darling NWR, c/o Toni Westland (239-472-1100 ext 236), 1 Wildlife Drive, Sanibel, FL, 33957 or email to Toni\_Westland@fws.gov.